CONTROLLED INSIGHT

Lobeck Chemie AG, St. Gallen,
Switzerland

Interior architect:
Pfeiffer Interior Architecture+ Design,
Füllinsdorf

Initial situation:

The existing industrial building was to be renovated in order to enlarge office space and meeting rooms. The rooms were opened towards the corridor by the use of glass partitions. This helped to create the impression of more openness but failed to ensure privacy in the offices and meeting rooms.

Solution:

The customer required slight transparency but visible contours and a solution that would close off the corridor from the offices. Gecko fulfils these requirements by providing privacy and also contributing to a room design that harmonizes with the anthracite-coloured carpet. The adhesive textile was used partially to ensure optimum balance between lightness and privacy assurance. In addition to this, Spider Laser Cube panel curtains were used in the meeting rooms.

Products:

Gecko Crypta Letter,
Spider Laser Cube panel curtain
