INCONSPICUOUS TRANSLUCENCY

Mayor's and debt enforcement offices, Zurich, Switzerland

Architects:
Losinger Architects, Zurich

Initial situation:
The real estate management authorities of the town of Zurich laid down the signage of government administrative buildings in form of design guidelines.
These guidelines were taken fully into account with regard to the signage of the mayor's and debt enforcement offices of the town of Zurich.

Solution:
The main signage was cut out of the Gecko fabric by laser, thus ensuring that the stripe-like transparency underlines the official character of the building.
The zones calling for discretion, i.e. the closed counters and the debt enforcement offices, are set in a completely open office landscape. The glass panes of the individual debt enforcement office rooms were equipped with strips of Gecko allowing for indirect monitoring as well as ensuring the anonymity of the clients.
