STACKED ROOMS

VitraHaus, Weil on the Rhine, Germany

Architects:
Herzog & de Meuron, Basel

Initial situation:
The large windows of the new Vitra House allow for a lot of light and sunshine to flood the rooms. Moreover, you can see through practically the entire building.

Solution:
Motorized slanted curtains, a special version of Metric Slope III, were mounted to ensure glare protection in the ‚playhouse‘-like slanted windows. In addition to this, curtains (Dimmer with a back lining in Universal) mounted in the middle of conference and meeting rooms ensure privacy and also absorb sound.

The product Steel Base moreover serves as additional privacy assurance in the conference rooms.

Product:
Metric Slope III special with Lerida III, Dimmer II, Universal III, Steel Base
